

febi's Windscreen Washer Pumps

product news

During the colder months windscreen washer pumps come under a lot of strain due to increased usage and as a result tend to fail more during winter.

There are a number of factors that cause these failures; firstly, incorrectly diluted screen wash or screen that doesn't have the correct temperature range on can cause the washer pump to freeze and split.

Finally the seals break allowing fluid to get in to the motor thus causing it to rust and cease.
